

PEEK INSIDE GREENVILLE TOOL & DIE COMPANY

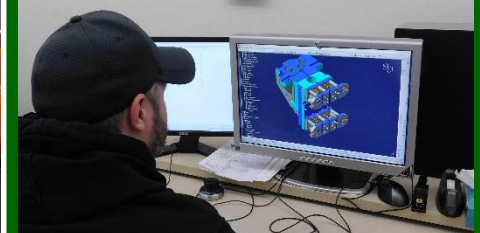

Tool & Die Designer AJ Selleck gave a tour on February 13th to home school students who were eager to discover what career opportunities are available. The children ages 5-16 watched presentations from design, simulation, surfacing, and toolpathing before a general tour including some demonstrations throughout the plant. GTD offers paid on the job training, free college tuition, and a flexible schedule during the apprenticeship program making the decision to enter the trade both clever and viable. Thank you to all of the students and chaperones for your interest in die making.
